Peace Be Still Collection advocates for a healthy lifestyle to increase longevity by promoting self-care as a priority. One of the ways you can achieve this is through the use of our signature artisan candles and wax melts that turn your space into a relaxing sanctuary. Scent affects our moods and emotional wellbeing which is why each scent in our collection was chosen to elevate, rejuvenate, and relax your frame of mind. We are proud to offer you a healthier alternative to the standard paraffin wax products available in most stores today. Peace Be Still Collection's handmade candles and wax melts use premium soy wax and phthalate free high-quality fragrances, and that deliver the soothing and relaxing effects of your favorite type of scents. Peace Be Still Collection products are:

- Health Conscious – Created with natural ingredients and fragrances free from carcinogenic chemicals, such as phthalates, that are in most fragrances found in candles, cosmetics, and air fresheners.
- Cruelty-free - All of our ingredients are free from animal testing
- Environmentally sustainable - American grown and renewable soy waxes are in all of our products.

Peace Be Still Collection started in October 2016, in the founder's home kitchen. After several relatives had been diagnosed with cancer, it motivated her to look for healthier alternatives from the current products in the market. For this reason, the collection was born out of the motivation to live a healthier and more positive lifestyle. Over the last ten years, the ingredients necessary to be removed from a personal routine were researched to reduce the number of toxic chemicals we come into contact with the average candle.
