Let Rawls Photography and Design catch your precious moments in action. Black-owned photography company Rawls Photography & Design specializes in providing professional photography to families, churches, corporate events and family reunions. Their passion is natural light outdoor photography, but they have the equipment to provide indoor portraits as well. Documenting births, children's milestones, graduations, multigenerational families at reunions, and more is their area of expertise. Since the employees have families as well, they understand the importance of having a tangible heirloom to pass down for generations. That's why they don't stop at just taking portraits, but are also print artists who provide curated heirloom albums, wall art, and specialty products. such as custom invitations and even ornaments. What sets Rawls Photography & Design apart is that they take time to get to know each of their clients by meeting in person or consulting by phone to learn about their story before booking. They believe each individual and family has a unique story and feel compelled to help each one they serve to tell their story. After having eight children, with five all grown up – and a blended family that includes twelve children altogether, there are pieces of their story that were never photographed. Sure, they have photos, but too many of them are just snapshots. There's a huge difference between telling your child to smile and taking a photo of them playing in the snow or reading a book. Portraits that tell a story and are filled with emotion are what they provide for everyone they serve. That's why it's their mission to fill in the gaps for those families who may not have enough printed photographs documenting precious moments such as their newborn at the hospital or a sweet sixteen. Perhaps a family has a member with a terminal disease and wants to capture their family together in order to preserve beautiful memories of their loved one, or a husband and wife celebrating fifty years of marriage need a photographer with an eye for detail to capture loving moments at an anniversary session or even an anniversary dinner. These are the moments everyone lives for – to tell the stories of other families and help their legacy live on through authentic portraits that show how meaningful their lives are.
